

Baseline Analytics, Industry Advisory Board Overview

The Baseline Analytics Industry Advisory Board (IAB)

Roles and Governance

Purpose

Purpose of the Baseline Analytics Industry Advisory Board is to bring world-class executives with proven industry connections & experience into the Company as outside intelligence to internal leadership. Advisors will be chartered onto known industry topics that can aid overall outbound strategy, accelerate the roadmap and address key strategic initiatives.

The IAB is a sophisticated advisement vehicle meant to strengthen Baseline Analytics outbound capability & understanding within consumptive industry segments. There is huge value to be derived from maximizing the power and intellect of an IAB constituency. Confirming company strategic directions, key differentiation & advantages, introducing possible commercial partnerships, and aid with ambient noise from across many industry segments to promote Baseline Analytics brand and technology assets. In addition, the IAB gives the company new executive touch points inside prospective industry segments including potential customers, resellers, partners and alike.

Charter

The IAB is an industry innovation council designed to advise CEO Chase Spivey on rationalizing and improving GTM strategy. Identifying industry segment use cases, trial adoptions and Channel /Reseller partnership opportunities.

The IAB operates as a “think tank” with all IPR attributable to Baseline Analytics , and all conversations and information discussed within the IAB being subject to agreed client confidentiality terms.

Advisory Board Support

Led by CEO Chase Spivey and COO Sheldon McClelland, the IAB Plan is to architect, build and manage all interactions of a handpicked Industry Advisory Board. Each member will be vetted and mutually agreed upon for ratification with CEO Chase Spivey. This IAB Program will be primarily responsible to help define and aid outbound strategy, channels, customers, partnerships & innovations for Baseline Analytics .

Baseline Analytics, Industry Advisory Board Overview

Each Seat Counts

Baseline Analytics IAB is a world-class Industry Advisory Board consisting of Executives and Officers who are well respected within their specific industry segments for technology and/or business achievements. Providing distinct opinions, seasoned skill, professional guidance, and aid for reach into consumptive markets.

Each IAB Seat will represent a select global market segment and an Executive from inside that respective field will fill each Seat. Ideal candidates are currently working, or recently departed from senior-level positions within the segments.

The Industry Advisory Board will generally perform the following duties:

- 1. Outbound GTM Guidance, Adoption. Under controlled exposure & NDA, each Advisor shall be educated to Baseline Analytics company roadmap & direction. Each Advisor is respectfully requested to provide Industry connective tissue to aid commercial progress. Adding select Intelligence, Advisement and Options for Baseline Analytics leadership to consider.
- 2. Industry Segment Intelligence. As a collective unit, the IAB will provide distinct insights into various market segments and trends according to Baseline Analytics . The IAB will become guiding Voices for outbound adoption, strategic rationale and deliver an expert perspective on use case consumption and/or deployment trends.

Commitment

This Industry Advisory Board (IAB) is a non-fiduciary body with no Baseline Analytics governance or voting rights, acting solely as an Industry Intelligence Resource. Thus, zero liability to the Advisor or to their employers.

Collective attendance at four (4) annual Industry Advisory Board meetings by web conferences. Individual Advisors may connect independently (on an as needed basis) dependent upon specific charter and topics for advisement.
